

Paul Landefeld

▫ Department of Economics, PO Box 400182, Charlottesville, VA 22904 ▫ 410.746.1879 (C) ▫
▫ <http://people.virginia.edu/~PSL8U> ▫ PSL8U@virginia.edu ▫

Education:

2005-Present Ph.D. Candidate, University of Virginia
2006 M.A. Economics, University of Virginia
2002 B.A. Economics, Columbia University

Fellowships and Awards:

2007-2008 Outstanding Graduate Teaching Assistant Award, University of Virginia
2007 Summer Research Fellowship, University of Virginia
2006 Huneke Fellowship, University of Virginia
1998-2002 John Jay Scholar, Columbia University

Research and Professional Experience:

2005-2007 Research Assistant for Kamalini Ramdas, Darden School of Business

Summer 2006 Ph.D. Intern, Citigroup U.S. Economics Group, New York, NY
Research project on the relative accuracy of different inflation forecasting methods applied to the U.S. economy. Developed programs to form, compare, and update inflation forecasts based on a variety of models.

2003-2005 Research Assistant, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, DC
Assisted Wayne Passmore and co-authors on a series of papers analyzing the implicit subsidy granted to Government Sponsored Enterprises. The first of the papers is available at <http://www.federalreserve.gov/pubs/feds/2005/200506/200506pap.pdf>. Created and maintained econometric models, graphics, and presentations. Assisted in the publication of Federal Reserve Data on consumer credit and financial obligations. Provided supporting materials for internal Federal Reserve forecasts and research.

2002-2003 Research Assistant, President's Council of Economic Advisers, Washington, DC.
Assisted and supported Presidential economic advisers on trade and the macroeconomy. Provided written and graphic materials, editorial assistance, and fact-checking for the Economic Report of the President, speeches by the Chairman and the President, the administration forecasts, and data release memos. Analyzed and reported on general economic data for use by the CEA.

Summer 2001 Intern, Haver Analytics, New York, NY
Constructed and maintained economic databases on developing countries. Fulfilled special requests from the World Bank, IMF, and other private clients on economic data.

Teaching Experience:

2007-2008 Teaching Assistant, Economic Development
Professor Sanjay Jain

Fall 2006 Teaching Assistant, Principles of Microeconomics
Professor Kenneth Elzinga

Spring 2007 Teaching Assistant, Principles of Macroeconomics
Professor Lee Coppock

Work in Progress:

“An Empirical Study of Social Networks in Ghana,” with Federico Ciliberto
“The Threat of Offshoring and Wage Setting,” with Alexander McQuoid
“Exploring the Links between Child Labor and Education”

Other Information:

Languages: Conversational Italian and Spanish, Beginning Portuguese.

Computing: MATLAB, SAS, STATA, FAME, RATS, SPlus, Haver Database, Bloomberg, PERL, HTML